December 5-8, 2011

Fresh off of our first successful OnGreen Venture Roadshow in August, OnGreen is thrilled to announce that we are working with Los Angeles Mayor Antonio Villariagosa for our newly scheduled Venture Roadshow in December. OnGreen developed the roadshow program to allow US-based cleantech innovators to link directly with China-based investors, potential market entry partners, future customers, and this time, the Los Angeles Mayor's Office. The December trip will build upon the Mayor's agenda to accelerate development of, and investment, in clean technologies that will foster a green economy and create green jobs in Los Angeles. Mayor Villariagosa will be giving keynote speeches at the events and meeting with key cleantech leaders in China to promote investment opportunities in Los Angeles and the U.S.

Be part of the OnGreen Venture Roadshow to spotlight your technology in front of 200+ potential Chinese investors and partners. In our first-ever Roadshow in August, 19 entrepreneurs from the U.S., Canada, and Europe connected with potential investors and partner in China, including Chrysalix Energy Venture Capital, Hengtong Group, and Draper Fisher Jurveston. The events ranged from a conference-style networking event in Shanghai to one-on-one sessions in Nanjing. Several Memorandums of Understanding (MOUs) have already come out of the China trip.

Participants can expect three days of intensive interaction with active cleantech investors, potential partners for market expansion into China as well as potential customers for your solutions. The December Roadshow will visit Shanghai, Chongqing and Beijing, China's leading centers for investment and deployment of cleantech infrastructure. Apply for the roadshow by October 14th to join OnGreen and the Mayor's delegation and get closer to securing a deal through these direct engagement opportunities.

We look forward to another successful trip with a group of top-notch innovators to wrap up 2011!
